

CUNYfirst Global Search Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

What makes the Global Search different from the existing class schedule available in CUNYfirst?

Global Search offers the flexibility to search for courses across multiple CUNY Colleges while the existing search is limited to only one college at a time.

Global Search also has the ability to search by:

- mode of instruction delivery, such as fully online or in-person
- general education area
- subject area

Why are courses from some CUNY colleges missing from the search results?

Courses at some CUNY colleges (including The Graduate Center, Graduate School of Journalism and Macaulay Honors College) are not yet available in CUNYfirst. Please check those individual college's web sites for information on their courses if they are missing from your search results.

Can I add courses to my CUNYfirst shopping cart after using the Global Search?

No, you will need to log in to your CUNYfirst student account and enter the course number to enroll. Although Global Search accesses the latest CUNYfirst course information, it was developed as an independent tool so that visiting and prospective students could use it as well.

I am a CUNY student who is interested in taking a course at a different college than the one I attend. What do I do next?

Please refer to the general instructions on how to Register for a Course.
